Access Plan

Background information about the school and its accessibility.

The school building was originally built in the mid 1800s. This part of the building was originally a school and headmasters house. Over the years the building has been added to at various times and the school house has been included in the school building to provide office and staff facilities.

Due to this the original and much of the subsequent buildings were not designed with disability and wheel chair access in mind. There are steps into and with the buildings. There are stairs to the head's office, staff toilets and withdrawal room. Where steps and stairs are there are suitable handrails provided. There are 2 disabled toilets and some other toilets have handrails also.
