MISSION STATEMENT

This Policy is carried out within the context and spirit of the school's Mission Statement of "Teaching and Living the Christian Way of Life". It supports and reinforces the aims of Thurlaston Church of England (Aided) Primary School, valuing all children equally and as individuals.

Teaching and Living the Christian Way of Life

INTRODUCTION

In contrast to the policies for specific curriculum subject this policy relates to the whole life of the school. Of particular importance in promoting spiritual, moral, social and cultural development (SMSC) is the example set by adults in the school, the quality of relationships and the standard of daily collective worship.

- At Thurlaston CE (Aided) Primary School the promotion of pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development is considered to be a 'whole school' issue.
- Spiritual, moral, social and cultural development should be promoted not only through all the subjects of the curriculum but also through the ethos of the school and collective worship.
- The development of positive values and attitudes is considered to be intrinsically linked with spiritual, moral social and cultural development

RATIONALE LEGAL

The Education Reform Act (1988) requires the curriculum of a maintained school to 'promote the spiritual, cultural mental and physical development of pupils at the school.

- Provision for SMSC development will be inspected by both OFSTED and Section 23 inspectors, although the latter will concentrate more upon the spiritual and moral aspects.
- All maintained schools — including church schools — must provide a daily act of collective worship for all registered pupils.

RATIONALE - RELIGIOUS/EDUCATIONAL

- The connection between good results in the curriculum and high standards in SMSC development is widely acknowledged and is evident in a significant number of OFSTED reports.
- The SMSC aspects of education concentrate on the development of the pupil as an individual and as a personality, aiming to enrich and extend the human existence of each child in relation to the values attitudes, beliefs and consequent behaviour acquired during school years.

DEFINITIONS

Spiritual Development

Understanding of self and others is at the heart of spiritual development and is not linked solely to a particular doctrine or faith. Spiritual development is, therefore, accessible to everyone. All areas of the curriculum should contribute to pupils' spiritual development.

As a church school, we place special emphasis on the specific teaching and beliefs of the Christian faith, both within the daily life of the school and through the curriculum.

Moral development

Acquiring a knowledge and understanding of what is right and wrong is central to moral development. It is the basis upon which the pupils may develop the ability to make judgements about how to behave and it is the standpoint from which to consider the behaviour of others in school and society in general.

The system of rules and codes of behaviour established in our school is an important early introduction to issues of fairness for all and to the consequences of operating outside the accepted rule system.

Pupils are encouraged to understand the need for a common code and to follow it from conviction rather than because of consequences or sanctions. Moral development based on Christian principles, should enable pupils to become increasingly responsible for their own actions and behaviour.

Social development

Development in this area enables pupils to become conscientious participants in firstly, the society of the family and then, progressively, the class, the school and the wider community. Provision for social development should balance the positive, satisfying elements of belonging to a group or society with the demands and obligations such membership requires.

The school, but in particular the classroom: provides a suitable environment for promoting social development within a Christian context. Pupils learn to lead, to use their initiative and to use individual skills and strengths when working together towards a common goal. The ability to be led, to support others and to recognise the different skills of other group members can be developed when children work co-operatively.

Cultural development

Cultural development refers to the development of knowledge and understanding of differing cultural beliefs customs and traditions, [t is an increasing appreciation of the systems of values and attitudes which form the basis of identity and cohesion within societies and groups.

In order to make provision for cultural development existing knowledge, interests and experiences are strengthened and then built upon further. In this way pupils gain a deeper understanding of their own culture and the factors which influence it and gain a broader understanding of other cultures and cultural influences. All areas of the curriculum can be used to promote and develop cultural awareness, although the arts, music, dance, drama and art are those used the more frequently.

Christian Distinctiveness.

Thurlaston CE (Aided) Primary School is a Church of England Aided School with Christian attitudes towards life. We consider it important to foster a personal, caring and happy environment.

- an understanding of moral principles which allow them to tell right from wrong?
