Dear Parent/Carer,

I trust you all have a restful half term. We have sent out a letter regarding our Book Week (4th to 8th March) and you may want to check it through for things you can do during half term.

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening this week and kept to time. We trust you found it helpful and informative.

I have had a local resident ring to complain that some parents have been parking over their driveway preventing them from leaving. May I remind you that it is illegal to park over driveways and block access. Please be considerate when parking.

At a recent meeting of the governors it was decided that the messaging part of Clasdojo will be switched off. Unfortunately, it has been causing problems and the benefits gained from using it have been eclipsed by the difficulties. Teachers will still be able to share the work the children are doing in school through Class Story and announcements can be sent from school using School Story. Clasdojo is free to use and parents have never been encouraged by school to upgrade for the paid for options as they are not needed. We encourage parents to talk to us and want to keep lines of communication open. Please phone the office regarding absences and collection arrangements.

Swimming continues after the break for a further 4 weeks.

Parents of children in Class 3 have been invited into school on 28th February to see how guided reading is done in Class 3.

Yours sincerely

Gavin Beetham

Dear Parent/Carer,

I trust you all have a restful half term. We have sent out a letter regarding our Book Week (4th to 8th March) and you may want to check it through for things you can do during half term.

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening this week and kept to time. We trust you found it helpful and informative.

I have had a local resident ring to complain that some parents have been parking over their driveway preventing them from leaving. May I remind you that it is illegal to park over driveways and block access. Please be considerate when parking.

At a recent meeting of the governors it was decided that the messaging part of Clasdojo will be switched off. Unfortunately, it has been causing problems and the benefits gained from using it have been eclipsed by the difficulties. Teachers will still be able to share the work the children are doing in school through Class Story and announcements can be sent from school using School Story. Clasdojo is free to use and parents have never been encouraged by school to upgrade for the paid for options as they are not needed. We encourage parents to talk to us and want to keep lines of communication open. Please phone the office regarding absences and collection arrangements.

16th February 2024

Dear Parent/Carer,

I trust you all have a restful half term. We have sent out a letter regarding our Book Week (4th to 8th March) and you may want to check it through for things you can do during half term.

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening this week and kept to time. We trust you found it helpful and informative.

I have had a local resident ring to complain that some parents have been parking over their driveway preventing them from leaving. May I remind you that it is illegal to park over driveways and block access. Please be considerate when parking.

At a recent meeting of the governors it was decided that the messaging part of Clasdojo will be switched off. Unfortunately, it has been causing problems and the benefits gained from using it have been eclipsed by the difficulties. Teachers will still be able to share the work the children are doing in school through Class Story and announcements can be sent from school using School Story. Clasdojo is free to use and parents have never been encouraged by school to upgrade for the paid for options as they are not needed. We encourage parents to talk to us and want to keep lines of communication open. Please phone the office regarding absences and collection arrangements.

Swimming continues after the break for a further 4 weeks.

Parents of children in Class 3 have been invited into school on 28th February to see how guided reading is done in Class 3.

Yours sincerely

Gavin Beetham

Dear Parent/Carer,

I trust you all have a restful half term. We have sent out a letter regarding our Book Week (4th to 8th March) and you may want to check it through for things you can do during half term.

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening this week and kept to time. We trust you found it helpful and informative.

I have had a local resident ring to complain that some parents have been parking over their driveway preventing them from leaving. May I remind you that it is illegal to park over driveways and block access. Please be considerate when parking.

At a recent meeting of the governors it was decided that the messaging part of Clasdojo will be switched off. Unfortunately, it has been causing problems and the benefits gained from using it have been eclipsed by the difficulties. Teachers will still be able to share the work the children are doing in school through Class Story and announcements can be sent from school using School Story. Clasdojo is free to use and parents have never been encouraged by school to upgrade for the paid for options as they are not needed. We encourage parents to talk to us and want to keep lines of communication open. Please phone the office regarding absences and collection arrangements.

Swimming continues after the break for a further 4 weeks.

Parents of children in Class 3 have been invited into school on 28th February to see how guided reading is done in Class 3.

Yours sincerely

Gavin Beetham

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening this week and kept to time. We trust you found it helpful and informative.

I have had a local resident ring to complain that some parents have been parking over their driveway preventing them from leaving. May I remind you that it is illegal to park over driveways and block access. Please be considerate when parking.

At a recent meeting of the governors it was decided that the messaging part of Clasdojo will be switched off. Unfortunately, it has been causing problems and the benefits gained from using it have been eclipsed by the difficulties. Teachers will still be able to share the work the children are doing in school through Class Story and announcements can be sent from school using School Story. Clasdojo is free to use and parents have never been encouraged by school to upgrade for the paid for options as they are not needed. We encourage parents to talk to us and want to keep lines of communication open. Please phone the office regarding absences and collection arrangements.

Swimming continues after the break for a further 4 weeks.

Parents of children in Class 3 have been invited into school on 28th February to see how guided reading is done in Class 3.

Yours sincerely

Gavin Beetham

Dear Parent/Carer,

I trust you all have a restful half term. We have sent out a letter regarding our Book Week (4th to 8th March) and you may want to check it through for things you can do during half term.

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening this week and kept to time. We trust you found it helpful and informative.

I have had a local resident ring to complain that some parents have been parking over their driveway preventing them from leaving. May I remind you that it is illegal to park over driveways and block access. Please be considerate when parking.

At a recent meeting of the governors it was decided that the messaging part of Clasdojo will be switched off. Unfortunately, it has been causing problems and the benefits gained from using it have been eclipsed by the difficulties. Teachers will still be able to share the work the children are doing in school through Class Story and announcements can be sent from school using School Story. Clasdojo is free to use and parents have never been encouraged by school to upgrade for the paid for options as they are not needed. We encourage parents to talk to us and want to keep lines of communication open. Please phone the office regarding absences and collection arrangements.

Swimming continues after the break for a further 4 weeks.

Parents of children in Class 3 have been invited into school on 28th February to see how guided reading is done in Class 3.

Yours sincerely

Gavin Beetham
